

Most people don't notice it, but it protects you from floods 24/7

The 8 recently installed automatic flood barriers at Warriewood Square Shopping Centre go mostly unnoticed by those who shop at Aldi or visit Australia Post or Service NSW.

But in case of flood they automatically rise up and do their job without electricity, manpower or hydraulics.

Day and night.

For pedestrians, cars, trucks. Custom made in required lengths and heights.

Looks simple, is simple, but always works.

These automatic and passive flood barriers are called FloodBreak and can protect against up to 3 metres high flood waters.

Hundreds have been installed globally.

Bluemont selected FloodBreak as their first fixed flood barrier due to ease of installation, reliability and minimum maintenance requirements.

And of course their track record.

The FloodBreak automatic flood barrier.
